BENEFIT HOCKEY GAME

A big hockey game will be staged on the local arena tomorrow (Friday) night. The contestants will be Coleman and Bellevue teams and the proceeds will be handed over to "Goalie" Rhynas, of the Blairmore team, who through an unfortunate accident on Christmas Eve has been confined to the hospital and unable to fill his position on the ice this season. A record crowd is anticipated, both Bellevue and Coleman coming strong to root for the team and incidentally show their sympathy with Mr. Rhynas. Following the game a big dance will be held at the opera house, music to be furnished by the Bellevue Jazz Orchestra, a new organization which is fast gaining popularity.

LETHBRIDGE CLAIMS GAME BY DEFAULT

Last night's hockey game at Lethbridge wound up in somewhat of a fiasco, Blairmore boys walking off the ice in protest against unfair decisions of the referee. The first two periods of the game were fast and the score stood at 2-2 when Turner, of the Blairmore team was alleged by the referee to have tripped Henderson, and was ordered off for three minutes. The referee refused to change his ruling, in spite of the fact that Henderson denied that he had been tripped. The most remarkable stunt of the game was the scoring of a goal by Henderson when only he and the referee occupied the Blairmore end of the ice. Lethbridge claimed the game by default.

A special meeting of the town council was held last night to consider ways and means of improving the water service.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

(By Our Own Dear Felix)
CRICHTON—COLLINSON

On Friday evening, January 27th, at 7 o'clock, a marriage took place at the residence of Mrs. D. Howcroft, Little Wigan, Hillcrest, sister of the bride, the happy couple being Robert Crichton, late of the Princess Pat's and a prisoner of war for two years, and Mrs. Agnes Collinson, late of Walkerton, Lancashire, England. The residence was tastefully decorated and the couple entered the room to the strains of the bridal chorus played by the bride's cousin, Mr. Ed. Royle. The Rev. R. Newman tied the nuptial knot. After the ceremony everyone adjourned to the Masonic hall, where a splendid repast was partaken of and some wee hours of the morning were spent in dancing, singing and games, but all failed to catch the rooster. Music was supplied by Ed. and Joe Royle and Miss Thompson. The presents were many and costly. All voted a good time, as usual. The tip-can brigade was very much in evidence but was appeased by a little palm grease. The best wishes of all go with the newly-married couple, especially Bob, as this is his first venture. Bob is a very well known and popular figure around these parts and for some years has been prominent in the A.F. & A.M. circles, at present holding the important position of Worshipful Master of the local lodge. The list of guests included: Mr. and Mrs. D. Howcroft, John, Edward, Gladys, Olive and Bob Howcroft; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Royle; Joe. Bill and Nellie Royle; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Thomas of Bellevue; Mr. and Mrs. J. Atkinson; Miss Beattie Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Whiller, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas, Miss Thompson, Miss Jeffries, Miss Sellins, Mr. D. Holman and Mr. F. Beck. Owing to illness, Mr. and Mrs. W. Young were unable to be present.

BLAIRMORE HAS THREE FIRES IN LESS THAN TWENTY.

FOUR HOURS

Blairmore was aroused at a late hour on Monday night by an alarm of fire and the whole populace turned out expecting a repetition of previous large conflagrations. An overheated furnace and defective chimney in the old Blairmore hotel building was the cause of the alarm, the chimney having caught fire, flames and smoke making their way through defects to the walls on the ground floor and basement. The source of the fire was gotten under control by a hatchet brigade, assisted by an emergency hose.

The building was occupied on the ground floor by the Blairmore Pharmacy, a second-hand furniture store and a restaurant operated by Mar Poy, while the upper floor contained the office of J. W. Gresham, police magistrate and rented rooms.

In a very short time the building became filled with dense smoke and it was with difficulty that the occupants of the upstairs made their exit.

The damage was but slight, mostly being caused by water and we understand that it is covered by insurance. No sooner had this fire been extinguished and the firemen and citizens repaired to their homes than a second alarm was sounded. This time attention was drawn to the Rosse building, next the G. W. V. A. club building on the same street. The flames had gained considerable headway before being discovered and had broken through the roof before the firemen could get a stream of water to play. The building was a frame structure, occupied by the Blairmore Cash Grocery, the Local U. M. W. of A., and H. Seyan and wife. The latter occupied two rooms at the front upstairs, and escaped in their sleeping apparel, plus overcoats. All their effects, save a trunk of clothing were completely destroyed, without a cent of insurance. The building was completely destroyed, together with a heavy stock of groceries and provisions, on which was carried but little insurance.

Firemen worked heroically while the mercury stood at 26 below zero and ice formed on charred timbers a few feet from the flames.

The loss in this instance on building and contents is estimated at $20,000.

On Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, the fire whistle again aroused the town, this time fire having originated in the residence of A. Link, in South Blairmore. Before fighters had reached the scene the flames had spread through the entire house and all hope of saving the building or any of the contents was lost. Owing to the water being disconnected at the dam, snow shovel brigades were commissioned and by their good work the house adjoining, occupied by Isaac Rae and family, was saved, though considerably charred. Mr. Link's loss is a serious one and only partly covered by insurance. The house destroyed represented Mr. Link's savings and lots of hard work for some time past, which it would be difficult to estimate in figures. His family are at present visiting in Ontario and hoped to return here towards the end of this month. Not a particle of anything was saved.

The firemen are to be commended for their splendid efforts towards suppressing these fires, and the general public for assistance offered.

Mr. Harris, adjuster for the insurance companies, is on the ground today and returns to Calgary tonight.

Miss Beattie Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Whiller, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas, Miss Thompson, Miss Jeffries, Miss Sellins, Mr. D. Holman and Mr. F. Beck. Owing to illness, Mr. and Mrs. W. Young were unable to be present.

THE DEATH OF A GREAT EXPLORER

A man who has achieved what the late Sir Ernest Shackleton has, and in the name he has gained an invincible explorer in the most inhospitable region of the world, with climatic conditions as they are, where the South Pole is situated, must ever remain a romantic and heroic figure. His death, therefore, comes as a universal tragedy, even though he succumbed from natural causes and not from the grim vicissitudes of the surroundings to which his quest was bent. Indomitable and dauntless courage as he displayed in going forth for the fourth time to the inhospitable and rigorous shores of the Antarctic, with its unknown dangers, marks the dead explorer as a man entitled to the world's homage. It is just such intrepid souls as he that give inspiration in placing fortitude, courage and determination as virtues to be honored in the race.

In the interests of science the late explorer went out on what has proved his last journey south. In his earlier explorations he had done a very great deal to enrich the world's knowledge. The present expedition of the Quest had been spared to accomplish it, would have been not only of great personal interest to the late Sir Ernest Shackleton but to the world in general, in that amongst other things it included the survey of the great petrified forest which he previously located, and the charting of the island, with ascertaining the truth of a submerged connection between America and Africa. Amongst those of the great world explores the name of Sir Ernest Shackleton will hold an honored place.—Lethbridge Herald.

Mrs. Marion D. Stephens, daughter of the late Norman Reams, of Chicago, and heiress to a fortune of $19,000,000 will marry a bachelor named Anastase Andreievich Vassilsky-Vassilsky.

The chief events at the local arena next week will be the Coleman-Blairmore league fixture on Wednesday night and the Bellevue-Lethbridge re-play on Friday night. Both give promise of large audiences and good games.

According to several Maritime Province newspapers, irrigation down there is apt "irrigation." There may be something to that as it applies to western Canada, but probably the intention was to spell it "irrigation."

A boy in Conway's class at the school was asked how many marks he knew about. The boy replied: "Well, then there's easy marks. Then there's Karl Marks, trademarks and German marks."

American Coal Competition High

Calgary, Jan. 30.—American coal is driving the Crows' Nest product steadily from the market, according to operators of that district who insist that unreasonable labor prices in that district are the cause of it. A similar condition extends all the way down to Manitoba, said J. M. Mackin, president of the Hillcrest Collieries, operating a mine near Hillcrest, Alberta, in the Crows' Nest Pass. Mr. Mackin passed through Calgary at the week end.

The Hillcrest mine has a capacity of from 350,000 to 400,000 tons a year, most of this coal, a steam product being supplied to railway and commercial companies. All the mines in the Crows' Nest district, however, have been working scarcely half time on account of the growing invasion of cheaper American coal.

Team Work

It isn't the guns nor armament

But the close co-operation
That makes them win the day.
It isn't the individuals
Nor the army as a whole,
But the efficient team work

Detroit's biggest bankers admit that Henry Ford is probably the first real American billionaire and not John D. Rockefeller. Totaling the cash, the real estate and the machinery, and to that total adding the value of a going concern makes Ford literally a billionaire, and gives him more power than is wielded by many of the small governments of the world.

Premier Greenfield has announced that the policy of the Alberta Government with respect to immigration will be to discourage any who-else immigration into this province until such time as economic conditions have been readjusted and a reasonable assurance of success faces the settler. At the same time, he believes that there should be preparatory work against the time when the tide turns, and that there should be encouragement to get good farmers from Great Britain, United States and elsewhere, who have a certain amount of capital, to come and establish themselves here under no present low costs. In the meantime the problems of re-employment with respect to freight, and marketing and natural resources are being given considerable attention by the Government.

We regret that certain members of the Bellevue hockey team should have taken exception to the quotation of public opinion in our reference to employment of hockey referees in our last issue. As far as we can see, these statements cannot be retracted. As far as Bellevue is concerned, we do not for a moment wish to mix them with anything—savoring of poor sportsmanship. Bellevue has one of the finest and cleanest hockey teams in the league, captained by one whose reputation as a sport is unquestionable. The blame for breach of etiquette in the employment of referees must, we presume, rest with some one or more of the officials of the Crow Hockey League.

"Father," said a liquor loving Irishman, on meeting the parish priest the other day, "what is lumbago?" Seeing an opportunity for needed proof, the good father replied: "It is a terrible disease which comes from drinking up booze and chasing around at night." "Is that so?" said Pat. "It says in the paper that the Pope had lumbago."

Women Judges For Women Offenders

Advocated by Social Service Council—No Blame on Movie Managers for Low Fines

Winnipeg, Jan. 25. — Immediate provision for the trial of women offenders by women judges, creation of a "white list" of moving pictures to supplement work of censor boards, constitution of capital punishment, and the supplying of a medical service to outlying districts of the Dominion through either federal or provincial governments, were recommended by the Social Service Council of Canada at its meeting here today.

The report on criminology, presented during the morning, was notable for its failure to condemn capital punishment and its advocacy of women judges for women offenders. Considerable space was devoted to women offenders, care of the feeble minded and the carrying of firearms. In the legislation report, it was decided to urge several amendments to the criminal code, which affect young women offenders, race-track betting and lodging houses.

CHILD WELFARE
The child welfare report stated more Canadian citizens were lost through infant mortality than soldiers during the war. This report recommended the creation of a medical service to outlying districts "with at least as many representatives in the health and nursing services as there are today in agricultural services."

Modern picture managers who cater to low public taste were exempted from blame in the report on motion pictures. The solution was to educate the public, it was felt.

Resolutions adopted by the League of Nations conference formed the major section of the report on social hygiene. This also carried a recommendation for the creation of a department of social hygiene.

"Unsettled"

The editor of a country newspaper received from a subscriber the query: "Can you tell me what the weather is likely to be next week?" In reply he wrote: "It is my belief that the weather next week is likely to be like your subscription." The inquirer puzzled his head for an hour or so, then the editor was driving at, when finally he happened to think of the word "unsettled." He sent a cheque the next day.

What Western Canada Has Still To Offer The Prospective Farmer

Reading such statements of the development of Western Canada as the growth of cultivation in the four western provinces from 11 million acres in 1910 to 30 1/2 million acres in 1920 and an increase in the value of total crop production from $4 million in 1910 to $36 million in 1920, the impression might be created that the limit of agricultural development had been reached and the "plumage of wealth" produced attained. Just how far this is from actually can only be appreciated from an adequate appreciation of the immensity of the west which is a difficult matter to grasp, and to realize the comparatively small area of the west provinces which constitute Western Canada which has been brought under cultivation and rendered productive.

For peoples of other lands, especially the European accustomed to the narrow confines imposed by their national boundaries, it is difficult to form even an approximate idea of the vastness of Canada and of that country known as the "West." Canada, nearly a third again as large in area as the United States, with its hundred million people, shelters a bare nine million acres of its broad expanse. The never ceasing stream of immigration which pours into Canada empties its rich contents to be spread over the broad land, and peoples are immediately lost and absorbed without any appreciable effect. Notwithstanding the phenomenal development the west has witnessed in the past twenty-five years, there are still great stretches of undeveloped, fertile agricultural land containing thousands of potential homesteads of the highest productivity merely awaiting the fruition of settlement.

The province of British Columbia, over which walt the gentle breezes from the Pacific Ocean, and which contains such a diversified natural wealth, contains an area of 355,000 square miles or more than four times as large as the island of Great Britain. Of this huge area there are 80,000,000 acres which have been estimated to be cultivatable whilst only 250,016 acres in 1916 were producing. With a name now world famous for fruit production, and successful following in every other line of agriculture, the province's present agricultural revenue, amounting annually to many millions can be extended cultivation be augmented 100 times before any limit is reached.

Alberta once the province of the grain ranches and now an area of countless mixed farms, has an area of 167,765,000 acres, being nearly three times the size of Great Britain. According to Dominion Government estimates there are some 115 million acres of good agricultural land in the province whereas only a little over 9 million acres were producing crops last year. When it is considered that field and root crops and fodder crops in 1920 accounted for a revenue of about $260 million some small conception of its possibilities of agricultural wealth may be formed as well as the extensive openings still remaining for settlement.

Saskatchewan, which has produced more wheat growing champions than any other region of the American continent, has an area of 251,700 square miles, falling but slightly under Alberta in the matter of size. Some 155 million acres have been declared suitable for cultivation and potentially capable of producing the same high quality cereal which has carried off the world's premier honors so many times in the past ten years. Yet last year all crops accounted for a cultivation of less than 30 million acres, which indicates that notwithstanding the favor the province has found with wheat growers and the heavy influx of new farmers it has experienced there will be room for many more for years yet to come.

Though the tide of immigration was flowing westward seems to be less in the immediacy of the Canadian West there is striking indication of the effect of its current in the steady drive of settlement northward. Though there are thousands of virgin acres still awaiting settlement, the record rate at which they are being fenced and broken and the annual rise of land prices point to a time not far distant when land may no longer be acquired for the proverbial song, and the great "Empire of the North" be nearer its capacity in the production of agricultural wealth.

It is accounted the happiest omen for a boy to be born on Christmas Day, but unluckily for a girl, an old name for her was "the sorrow child."

On the Road To

Normal Production

All signs indicate that we are once more headed towards prosperity. Scattered items of local news and dispatches telling of increased production here, of greater sales there, of lessening unemployment, of a general air of action among industries, of a widespread movement among all men to go out and get business—this is the greatest news of the year.

It is the most immediately vital news to us all—to our business, our families, our peace of mind, our hopes, our ambitions.

But because great news of international significance with a bigger appeal to the imagination is coming from Washington, the greatest news of the year is in perspective to the man who is not accustomed to look for it, to read between the lines of everyday occurrences. In the meager item here and there this news does not seem of great moment, but taken in the aggregate, added to by every hour, every day and every week, the total is convincing.

We are on the road to normal production—sales, profit. We are headed for prosperity.

Men who had great industries realize the value of this business revival. They know it can be turned into an era of prosperity if the obstacles of pessimism, doubt, fear and inaction are removed. The nation-wide action, the prosperity campaign initiated by the Rotary Clubs of the United States and Canada will give the revival impetus in all parts of the country that should show immediate and unmistakable results in every community in Canada—Regina leader.

Cargo Carrying Airplanes

Capacity of New Machine Will be Three Tons

A novel type of aeroplane is being constructed by a British company under the auspices of the British Air Ministry. It is designed mainly with a view to carrying capacity, speed being sacrificed to some extent in order to give more scope for cargo. Careful experiments will be made with this aeroplane to decide certain disputed points about the actual cost of carrying goods by air. Aircraft operators hold that for long distances the cost of carriage by air will be very little less than that of motor charges. The capacity of the machine will be three tons.

Lumber Being Cut

On Nahanni River

Large Quantities of Fine Spruce Are Being Shipped to United States

A million feet of lumber is being cut on the Nahanni River, which will later be delivered to the government sawmill at Fort Simpson, arriving there by rail in the spring. The timber will be used for the construction of various buildings in the north for government purposes. In this area there are large quantities of very fine spruce of large diameter which up to the present have been practically untouched.

Canadian Fur Farms

Total Value of Animals in 1920 Over Four Millions

There are no less than 557 fur farms in Canada, according to the Bureau of Statistics. Silver, patch, red, blue and white foxes are bred, also mink, raccoon, skunk, fisher, lynx, marten and Karakul sheep. There were 15,695 silver foxes on the farms in 1920, three blue foxes and only one white fox. The total value of fur-bearing animals sold from these fur farms last year was $763,221. The number of live foxes exported during the fiscal year March 31, 1921, was 1,070, value $277,192.

Over Four Million

Needed For Loans

Rural Credits Societies of Manitoba Require Large Sum

Four and a half million dollars will be required to finance the 1923 operations of the Rural Credits Societies of Manitoba, according to officials of the Provincial Government. Loans for 1921 amounted to $2,500,000. Already $600,000 new loans have been made for 1922 farm work and to assist farmers in buying seed.

Princess Mary Values Gifts From France

Presented by Women Who Served Country During War

Princess Mary has collected many personal treasures at Sandringham, Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace. In her own private sitting-room at the palace are arranged Copenhagen china, the product of the Royal porcelains of Queen Alexandra's home capital, and many pictures and drawings.

Amongst the Princess's most treasured mementoes are the delightful gifts from women who were serving their country in France, presented to her when she visited women war workers' camps shortly after the armistice.

The Princess was the first member of the Royal Family to visit the war area after fighting ceased. In Rouen and in Bruges during her tour, she took the opportunity of doing some personal shopping.

Perhaps none of the little things to which she took a fancy on that occasion may find their way to Cheselard House, where there is, amongst other treasures, a wonderful collection of Sevres china.

Princess Mary's rabbit run, established a year or two ago at Sandringham is one of the many interests on which a decision will have to be reached before the Royal wedding.

Naval Officer's Invention

Will Enable Ships to See Clearly in Foggy Weather

A very important discovery has been made for enabling those on ships to see more clearly, especially in hazy weather, which may be of great value in making the safety of ships at sea more secure.

It is well known that when light is reflected from a haze, or even from the sea or from a surface as the alate roof of a house, the reflected light is what is termed "polarized." Light is due to very small vibrations in the ether which take place in two directions, one at right angles to the other; and when light is polarized it means that these vibrations take place only in one direction.

Thus, when looking through a telescope at a distant ship on a hazy day, the clearness of the ship is blurred by the polarized light reflected from the haze. But by placing what is known as a Nicol prism in the eyepiece of the telescope the polarized light can be cut out, or eliminated, so that only the ship is seen.

It is a very simple device, costing only a few shillings, but the naval officer who has suggested it believes it will prove of great practical value, and will show details of rocks that are usually lost in the haze.

Remarkable hands at whist were seen at a charity game in England recently. A new pack of cards was shuffled, cut and dealt, and when hands were examined it was found that one player had all the thirteen cards of hearts, the second all clubs, the third all diamonds and the fourth all spades.

Armenian Relief

Hundreds Are Dying Daily From Starvation in Armenia

A general appeal is being made to farmers of Western Canada this winter to contribute gifts of wheat to starving Armenians. The appeal so far has been responded to generously. William Irvine, western director of near eastern relief, declares:

"After one of the most disappointing crop years in the history of the west," Mr. Irvine said, "the farmers have forgotten their own troubles long enough to contribute widely to the relief of Armenians in grain and money to buy grain. If they can do this surely others, less fortunate, may follow their lead."

Already more than $5,000 in cash and $9,000 in grain has been given on pledge. If money is given, it is used to buy wheat at cost. It is carried to the granaries free, and probably will be hauled by railroads free of any charge whatsoever.

The appeal on behalf of Armenia is being made by the most stirring appeal put forth, according to directors. Hundreds there are dying daily from starvation. "Death wagons" drive through the streets of one city every morning and pick up from 25 to 30 bodies. Many of children who have died from lack of nourishment. There are 20,000 orphans in one Christian orphanage, and 20,000 more who cannot be taken in, it is said. There have been no crops this year in any part of the country owing to the massacres of the Turks.

A ship will leave an American port early in the New Year bearing food from Canada and the United States, Mr. Irvine said. Contributions or pledges should be sent to C. W. Bowler, Winnipeg, treasurer of relief.

Timber Industry Of B.C.

Mills Operating Steadily and Thousands of Men Employed

Directly and indirectly the timber industry of British Columbia employs nearly half the trade and commerce of this province. In 1920 they produced nearly $25,000,000 worth of commercial material and it is estimated that this year will run well over the $100,000,000 mark. There have been 1,400 logging operations in the province during the past two years, 240 sawmills, 100 chingle mills, six pulp and paper plants, all operating steadily. The output in 1920 was approximately 2,065,000,000 feet of wood products and over 20,000 men were employed to produce this enormous quantity.

A City of Refuge

Los Angeles must be looked upon as a city of refuge. It is, at any rate, a great hangout for offenders against the law. Advice from Sacramento as to 210 requests for extradition recognized by the governor, fully four-fifths were for persons held or apprehended in Los Angeles. If an eastern man forges a check or elopes with another man's wife he instinctively heads for that dear Los Angeles. It is the climate, of course, Los Angeles Times.

Outlook For Agriculture Is More Promising For The Coming Season

Speaking at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club, Regina, Mr. F. H. Auld, deputy minister of agriculture, expressed the belief that the prospects for agricultural production in Western Canada and for a relative greater purchasing power on the part of the farmers are distinctly better for 1922 than they proved to be in 1921.

The difficulties in which the farmers find themselves this winter, as a result of their operations during 1921, are due not to crop failure nor to the low price of wheat, but to the fact that Mr. Auld put it, that "in his opinion, the farmer has not had enough of the winter." The Regina Leader, which simply means that while he was compelled to sell his wheat and other farm produce at approximately prewar prices, everything he had to purchase had to be paid for at still undated prices. This applies to farm implements, which reached record prices last year; farm labor, whose wages were put little below the peak created by the war; and transportation, which was never higher.

The solution of the farmer's problem will not be found in higher prices for his products but in the deduction or lowering of the prices of the things that go to make up his operating expenses. The re-establishment of the normal margin between cost of production and the return obtained from the sale of his crops and livestock is the farmer's financial salvation and the price deflation necessary to bring this condition about is already on its way.

A slight reduction in freight rates has already been put into effect and there is hope that further reductions may be secured. A material reduction in the prices of farm implements is also taken place. The general downward trend of prices of the principle necessities of life continues. Wages for farmhands must sooner or later readjust themselves to the new condition.

Grain production in Western Canada depends largely upon available moisture and throughout the province the quantity of moisture in the soil at the present appears to be greater than the average for the last ten years, although this may not be the case in certain limited areas. Another important factor in production is the acreage prepared for crop and the quality of tillage work done. The acreage of new breaking and of fall plowed land for 1922 crop is about average; but the land summer-fallowed in 1921 is approximately one-third more than the average.

The production of meat animals has been discouraged by low prices and restricted markets. There are indications, however, that swine production is again on the increase, stimulated undoubtedly by the low prices for coarse grains and the need for augmenting the farm income; and dairying is making very rapid strides. A further stimulus to this industry may be expected from the disposal of the British Government of its war-time stores of dairy products and the consequent re-opening of the British market to Canadian producers on a basis of normal prices. The production of meat animals has been at back by low prices and restricted markets—especially the United States market, which is the outlet par excellence for Western Canadian cattle; and it is to be hoped that the new Government at Ottawa will find it possible to secure some relief in that direction.

A greater stability in farm produce markets in 1922 is looked for by Mr. Auld, as a result of the passing of wartime restrictions and the disposal of government stores of meat, butter and other farm products. "An increase in value is not to be expected, but a gradual improvement in the farmer's position brought about by increased purchasing power rather than higher prices may be seen. The purchasing power of grain and livestock in comparison with wholesale and retail prices of other commodities has apparently reached its lowest point and will begin to improve. Common prices will decline, as any further reduction of agricultural products will result in rural depopulation and therefore lessened agricultural production. The 1922 crop may prove disappointing to the farmer himself and to those with whom he does business, viewed from the angle of the purchasing power and debt paying capacity of the farmer; but it is Mr. Auld's opinion that the pendulum has begun to swing toward the farmer again and that the present outlook for 1922 is for a decidedly better year than that just ended.

Feeding For Egg Production

To Obtain the Best Results a Supply of Animal Food Is a Necessity

It can be definitely laid down that the egg yield of the average stock of fowl would be increased materially by the use of a larger supply of animal food. Six days' circular styled "Deer Sound versus Skim-Milk for Egg Production," just issued by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, the author of which is the Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station at Cap Rouge, is for the three main supplies of animal food required by laying hens are fresh green cut bones, beef scrap and skim-milk, and of these the last mentioned has proven the best for egg production. The milk may be for fresh or sour, but always the same, as any alteration is liable to lead to bowel trouble. It should also never be allowed to freeze. If milk is not available in sufficient quantity, then either beef scrap or fresh cut green bones can be fed to supply the deficiency. Buttermilk is beneficial. The main point is that, in order that hens may do their best, they must be given actual protein to a liberal extent. These are the conclusions reached after an experiment in fowl feeding conducted at Cap Rouge for five years. For small backyard flocks table scraps have been found satisfactory, but for the average farm flocks, whose greater outdoor scope it to be had, the scraps do not usually contain sufficient meat. In order that the birds may obtain skim-milk in the quantity they need, it is well to put it before them in an open can. Fish meal and fish oil can be used to a limited extent. Fresh meat scraps are advisable only in cold weather.

Busiest Station in the World

Charing Cross Averages Three Trains A Minute

Twenty years ago Londoners, proud of the size of the city and the dimensions of its traffic, used to point to the fact that Charing Cross Junction was the busiest railway station in the world—on an average a train a minute passed through it. Now that record is doubted at the Underground station at Earl's Court, where 120 trains an hour pass through during the rush hours, and at Charing Cross, with its three underground stations in one, there are often four and on the average three trains a minute. Twenty years ago, again, there were no motor omnibuses, and the horse omnibuses were but a fraction of their number. During the busiest hours today 640 omnibuses pass Charing Cross in the hour, 566 pass the Bank, 542 pass Oxford Circus, and 514 pass Piccadilly Circus. Omnibuses and underground trains carry 4,000,000 passengers a day. The population has increased less than 20 per cent since the beginning of the century, but for every journey in bus, train, or on the people made there, we make between 30 and 40 today.

The speed at which Canadian products can be put on the market in England was strikingly demonstrated recently.

The Department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific Railway recently shipped by Dominion Express on the "Empress of Britain" a consignment of Canadian apples for exhibition at 6245 Charing Cross, and the other offices of the company in Europe. The apples came from various Canadian provinces, and it is interesting to note that some of them actually left the producer and were on show in less than eight days. For instance, the Ontario consignment left

Trenton, Ontario, at 2 a.m., November 1, by C.P.R., arrived Montreal at 5 p.m., left at 6 a.m., and arrived Quebec at 2 p.m. They were immediately placed on board the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain," which arrived Liverpool on Tuesday morning, Nov. 6. Before the last passenger was off the ship the apples were discharged, whisked in Dominion Express motors to the special train to Euston Station, London, which was reached soon after 3 p.m. the same day. Here Dominion Express vans collected them, and at 2 o'clock they were on exhibition in the windows of a Canadian Pacific at Charing Cross, with a card reading, "Canadian apples, from producer to consumer in less than eight days."

Though Canada is three thousand miles from England, our system of quick transportation is bringing us nearer to that country every day. Recently the "Empress of Britain" went to Liverpool and back to Quebec in 15 days, including the time taken in embarking and disembarking passengers.

Canada's Needs

No. 5—Cheaper Transportation

In preceding articles in this series Canada's need of a larger population, of a return of agricultural prosperity, of world markets for its products, and of a greater employment of Canadian raw materials in home manufactures and domestic use has been pointed out and emphasized. As one means of bringing about the realization of all these improvements in our national life, possibly the great stress cannot be upon the question which forms the subject matter of this article, namely, cheaper transportation.

During the war years, and for a time following the Armistice, there was steady and rapid advances in rates charged by the railways of the country both for the carriage of passengers and freight. Rates went up by leaps and bounds until they far surpassed anything known previous to 1914. No doubt advances were inevitable and necessary under the unprecedented conditions created by the war and the financial and commercial upheaval following those years of destruction. But the cumulative effect has been to place such a heavy burden upon production and business as to constitute a handicap under which all industry now languishes.

The burden of excessively high transportation costs must now be removed as a first and necessary step to a resumption of that activity throughout the whole business world which is essential to a return of prosperity and plenty of employment for all.

While war-time high prices for labor and all commodities prevailed, business could not bear the burden of high transportation charges. Two dollars a bushel wheat could bear a heavy freight rate and yet leave a profit to the farmer, but wheat which realizes a dollar a bushel or less cannot pay the same price as two dollar wheat and still leave a margin of profit to the grower. And what is true of wheat is equally true in the case of livestock and of all articles of commerce. Yet while the prices of all articles produced by the farmer have enormously decreased, there has been practically no decrease in the charges he has to pay to get his products to market, nor on the necessities of life which he must buy.

The result is that the prevailing high transportation charges are throttling business and ruining the producers of the country. Inevitably and ultimately the railways themselves must suffer. If production continues unprofitably it will cease, or at all events be largely decreased. Decreased production means less traffic for the railways, and a lowered buying power of the people which will mean a smaller consumption of the products of the factories, and a general reduction in business and other large centers, and if the people are not prosperous, the railways cannot be.

The recently adopted unanimous resolution by the Saskatchewan Legislature demanding a reduction in freight rates, followed, as it is predicted it will, by somewhat similar declarations by the Legislatures of Alberta and Manitoba; the demand voiced by the United Farmers of Manitoba and Alberta, which will be re-echoed by Saskatchewan Grain Growers; the protests by leading newspapers in Toronto, Montreal and other large centers, and the emphatic declaration by Hon. R. E. Finn, solicitor for the Nova Scotia Government and the Halifax Board of Trade before the Dominion Railway Commission, that, if the Maritime Provinces are to live industrially, and Confederation itself not weakened, they must have lower freight rates; all go to prove that cheaper transportation is the crying need of the Dominion at the present time, and it must be provided without delay if widespread unrest and possible disaster is to be averted.

In urging the immediate reduction of freight rates, there is nothing antagonistic to the railways. Quite the reverse. Everybody appreciates the fact that the railways cannot continue if operated at a loss. It is to the interest of everybody that they should prove profitable and be maintained fully efficient, and that those who have invested their money and given their energy to such enterprises—whether it be private individuals or the nation itself—are entitled to a just return.

But if present conditions are not quickly remedied the railways will soon be numbered among the greatest losers of all. The railways will be far better off with an increased and increasing volume of traffic at reasonable rates, than a shrinking volume at exorbitant rates. Should the railways continue to decline, the railways must lose unless rates are still further increased to cover such loss of traffic. Rates are almost prohibitive as it is, and admittedly are restrictive of business. There is a point where high rates operate to decrease rather than increase profits, and that point has already been reached, if indeed, it has not been passed.

It is time for a reduction in transportation charges, and the people are entitled in a demand for such reductions, and substantial ones at that, be ordered.

Ambitious Highway Plans

Manitoba is Planning a Big Road Campaign

Plans to take Manitoba out of the bad roads category are under consideration by the Manitoba Motor League and the construction of 1,663 miles of main trunk highways throughout the province will be asked for at the next session of the legislature. The Motor League proposes a scheme of road building which would afford a network of highways all through the province and would provide that no person would be more than 15 miles distant from a trunk highway.

Under the proposed plan of trunk highways each road would be built of gravel, according to the standard of the Good Roads Board and the cost of construction would be provided for out of motor license fees.

China's Large Coal Lands

Estimates Show Country Has Bulk of Hard Coal

The coal fields of China now roughly surveyed are estimated to be as large as all the coal lands of North America. Coal occurs in most of the provinces of China proper and in nearly every province of Manchuria. Shanai is a province of China proper scarcely three hundred miles from Tientsin, the port of Peking, with which it has railway connection. The coal fields of this province underlie about thirty thousand square miles of territory, and, according to British authorities, several of the coal seams are twenty feet or more in thickness. Much of the coal of Shanai is anthracite of excellent quality, and it is estimated that these deposits constitute about four-fifths of the world's supply of hard coal.

Quick Growing Trees

Western Farmers Can Grow Wood for Fuel Within Six Years

Many of the species of trees which can be used on the prairie are very rapid growers, for example, cottonwood, willow, Russian poplar, and Manitoba maple. It is safe to say that "wood" large enough for fuel can be grown from any of these trees within six years. After that time a plantation will increase in value and productivity year by year and will prove one of the best investments on the farm.—Norman M. Rose, Indian Head Forest Nursery Station, is authority for the above.

GUARD YOUR HEALTH

You Can Do This by Keeping the Blood Rich and Red. It is useless to tell a hard working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Every woman at the head of a home, every girl in office, shop or factory is subjected to more or less worry. These worries cannot be avoided. But it is the duty of every woman, and every girl to have strength as much as possible, and to build up her system to meet unusual demands. Her future health depends upon it. To guard against a breakdown the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. To keep the blood in this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found most useful. They strengthen the nerves, restore the appetite, bring the glow of health to pallid cheeks, and renewed energy to listless people. Women take them, and when they should, but they can keep up their strength through the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This is shown by the case of Mrs. Minnie Swick, residing near Slinn, Ont. who writes: "Over five years ago I was in a deplorable state of health. My blood was weak and watery and the result of this my appetite was poor and what food I did take distressed me. I was not able to do my household duties and my nights were sleepless, and headache and backache added to my misery. I was finally persuaded to drop other medicines and take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This I did, and after taking the pills for a couple of months I could do my household work with ease, eat well, slept well and had gained in weight. From that time on my health has been perfect. I cannot praise these pills too highly."

Attempting Too Much

BY LORETTO C. LYNCH

An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

A thoughtful woman has written me a letter. She confesses that she has no time for play. In other words, she has no time for recreation. To quote, she says, "I wonder if it is possible to get my life on a business basis? Let me place the facts before you."

"I have two babies. One is two years of age, while the other is almost one year of age. I do all my own housework, including washing and ironing, as I cannot afford help. My husband helps me when he can, but he is a better character and is usually home for about one and one-half hours between 12 and 2 o'clock in the middle of the day."

"In addition to my housework, I do preserving in season with the aid of my husband at night. Then, too, I make up all my children's clothes as well as many of the simpler things for myself. I am trying in between times to knit a sweater suit each for the children. The bugbear of my life, however, is mending my husband's socks. He is on his feet all day long and needs to change his socks daily. It seems I never finish darning socks."

"My home is a four-room apartment. It has a very large kitchen inconveniently arranged, a nice bedroom and dining room and a very large living room. I am just considering putting the dining room furniture in with the living room and moving the dining room into a small room for the children."

"It seems that I am going all day long, but I can never look around and feel satisfied that there is nothing to be done. In fact, most times I do not dare to look around."

We get up between 6 and 6.30 and go to bed most anytime in the evening. The children get to bed by 6.30, when we have our supper. Can you give me any suggestions so that I too may have some leisure?"

Frankly, I believe, this woman is attempting too much. Preserving foods at home for economy's sake is debatable. If the fruit or vegetables are raised in the garden by the husband and pastured on the cow, or if they are purchased at a real bargain price, it may save one money to preserve at home.

But if it must be purchased at city prices and the cost of fuel and water and container reckoned, I question the wisdom of a busy mother in doing preserving at home when she must even get help from her already tired husband. I believe this woman would be better to purchase canned goods from first-class commercial firms.

There should be very little ironing to be done if the proper kind of crepe cloth for dresses and rompers and night dresses, etc., has been selected. If the knitting of sweater suits is done upon a machine, and if something that must be done, it may be all right to put in the time doing this, but again I say, have you seen the elegant machine knit garments of the kind that shops are showing at a price little more than the cost of the wool as it is bought retail?

There is hostility on the market guaranteed absolutely against holes. Why not look into this if darning is such a bugbear?

The idea of making the little used dining room into a nursery is an excellent one. Screen off part of the large kitchen and put your dining room furniture into it. Put your living room into perfect order and try to always have this one room so orderly that it will be soothing to your tired husband or yourself to spend the evening hours there after dinner. Personally, I find it quite difficult to keep a combination living-dining room in good order. You must make a rest time. You must.

Plastic Wood Now Material

Very Valuable in Making Patterns for Casting Purposes

The name "Plastic Wood" is given to an extraordinary interesting material recently introduced by a British firm. It is made of very fine wood mixed with collodion so as to become of the consistency of soft putty. It can be used for filling and stopping holes in wood, as it is exceedingly tenacious and adheres firmly to woods of all qualities. One of its most valuable applications is in the making of patterns for casting purposes. It can be built up into any form and it sets quite hard so that it can be cut like ordinary wood or turned in the lathe. It has the valuable quality of being waterproof, and it does not warp or deteriorate through damp. Plastic wood can also be finished with sandpaper in the ordinary way, giving a highly glazed finish. Nails can be driven firmly into it without cracking it. Perhaps the only drawback is that its plastic qualities are so marked that it sticks on the hands of anyone using it. The manufacturers, however, supply a special solvent which enables it to be thoroughly cleaned off the hands.

Miss Therault Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills

Popular New Brunswick Lady Fumes at the Features of the Season. Why Dodd's Kidney Pills are Suffering Women's Best Friend.

Upper Foxemouche, N.B.—(Special) I can conscientiously recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all persons afflicted with any form of kidney trouble. So says Miss Alice Therault, the popular school teacher here. And Miss Therault adds that she knows of no other woman who has not benefited from her own experience that Dodd's Kidney Pills are good. "I have experienced great benefit from this medicine since I have been troubled with kidney trouble. I always get good results from using them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are known from one end of Canada to the other as suffering women's best friend. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys to do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood. Sound kidneys mean good health.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys.

In a few hours your child will feel thoroughly it works all the constipating poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" in their homes. It is a spoonful daily saves a sick child to a healthy one. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has the directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Doctor Said "Keep on Using Zam-Buk"

"My little son was badly scalded by pulling a pan of boiling water over himself," writes Mr. Albert Sawyer, of Midland, Ontario. "I called in a doctor, but his treatments failed to ease the child's intense pain. I therefore discontinued the treatment and began with Zam-Buk instead. 'That's right—just keep on with Zam-Buk, there's nothing so good for scalds and burns.' When I told him what I was doing, he said: 'That's right—just keep on with Zam-Buk, there's nothing so good for scalds and burns.'"

As I promised, with Zam-Buk all soreness and inflammation was drawn out of the injuries and swelling gradually subsided. In less than a week the scalds—although so extensive and severe—were completely healed."

"Zam-Buk" obtainable of all chemists and stores. 50c. box. It is equally splendid for the treatment of eczema, rashes, ringworm, itchy skin, all sorts of wounds, chaps, cold-sores, chilblains, etc.
